Reports of the Superintendent

1. Construction Update.

- a. QHS Bids. Steve Baumann from Russell Construction informed the Board that two bids received for Bid Package #2 for the QHS addition came in higher than expected. He recommended the bid package be broken apart and new bids sought in order to attract more competitive bids. Both of the bidders had built-in contingency amounts that were heavy on overtime because of the tight construction schedule. Seeking new bids should not delay the project.
- b. Open House on Building Project. Member Troup reported on the two forums held last week for members of the community and staff to view design drawings of the Monroe School site and the QHS addition. He said the forums were well received with about 70 people attending both nights. Those who attended were very supportive and asked questions and offered suggestions.

Curriculum Committee

Curriculum Committee Chairperson Sheldon Bailey presented the Curriculum report. The committee heard a report from Heather Colombo, District Librarian, on a library services website she has created which is available to all students, staff and parents. The site provides links to a wide range of on-line resources. Students and teachers with a log-in have access to all of the resources available through the district. A small grant was used to begin purchasing eBooks. Each elementary school received $300 worth of eBooks and an additional 70 fiction titles have been added for the schools to share. There is a section of the website to facilitate education searches. Parents and students can log on at home for research or help with homework. Parents who want to help their children can learn along with them from sites devoted only to appropriate curriculum information. Students can be directed by their teachers to go to certain subject areas for research. She is working with staff at each school on how to use the new system. Heather said that Madison School students will be tracked this summer to gather data on how many kids are using the eBooks. The website can be accessed through the library section on the district's website, www.qps.org or at www.qpslibrary.weebly.com.

Maddie Filipiak, QPS College and Career Counselor presented a PowerPoint to the committee on this new center that serves students, parents and teachers in grades K-12. The center helps with college applications, financial aid, FAFSA assistance, resume and essay writing, ACT preparation and job applications and searches.
