School Update. Fall athletics and extracurricular activities are in full swing and things are going very well around the district as I go in and out of schools and events. Arts Quincy is offering a free after school art program for all K-3 students through the support of National Endowment for the Arts, Illinois Arts Council, and generous members of Arts Quincy. The homecoming parade was well attended by students from elementary through high school. Many community members came out to support the parade and rally with a nearly standing room only football game win. Special thanks to the high school administrative staff along with Greg Wellman and Stacie Niffen for their hard work in making this event so successful. Staff Recognition. Cyndi Ott, school nurse at Early Childhood and Family Center, was presented with a certificate for being one of three finalists for Illinois School Nurse of the Year. The Illinois Association of School Nurses presents the award each year to an exemplary member to recognize work to help students be healthy, safe, and ready to learn.
